

TOXICOLOGY IN PROMOTING OCCUPATIONAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL SAFETY

The Annual Meeting and Symposium of Finnish Society of Toxicology 16-17.4.2018

16.4.2018

19:00 - Get-together dinner:
Ristorante Il Siciliano Aleksanterinkatu 36 (at own cost)

17.4.2018

Venue: House of Science and Letters (Tieteiden talo), Hall 505, Kirkkokatu 6, Helsinki.

8:00 – 9:00 Registration and coffee, mounting of posters

9:00 – 9:15 Opening words, Kimmo Peltonen

1. Session

9:15 – 10:00 Harri Alenius: The Human Microbiota in Health and Disease - A link between environment and immunity

10:00 – 10:30 Markku Pavela: Occupational toxicology in the copper and nickel smelter, case Harjavalta: The role of the occupational health care unit

10:30 – 11:00 Anna Karjalainen: Ecotoxicological risks of multimetal mining activities in aquatic systems

11:00 – 12:15 Lunch & coffee (at own cost), posters

2. Session

12:15 – 13:00 Eero Pukkala: Occupation and cancer: Findings from the Nordic Occupational Cancer (NOCCA) project

13:00 – 13:30 Juha Laitinen: Fire fighters' exposure to chemical agents in conventional and modern simulators

13:30 – 14:00 Tiina Santonen: Occupational biomonitoring – current challenges and activities of the HBM4EU project

14:00 – 14:30 Coffee, posters

3. Session

14:30 – 15:15 Mika Kivimäki: Is stress toxic? Effects of stress on the development and progression of cardiovascular disease

15:15 – 15:45 Maarit Priha: Ten years of REACH

15:45 – 16:00 Discussion, closing words

16:15 – 18:00 The Annual Meeting of Finnish Society of Toxicology

Venue: House of Science and Letters (Tieteiden talo), Hall 309, Kirkkokatu 6, Helsinki.

Organizing committee: Jaana Rysä (chair),

Juha Laakso

Marja Raatikainen,

Kai Savolainen

Helene Stockmann-Juvala

More information: <http://www.toksikologit.fi>